

INTERACTIVE ENTERTAINMENT AND GAMING

From startups and indie developers to AAA publishers, attorneys in our group specialize in providing legal services and expertise in the dynamic and evolving field of interactive entertainment and gaming. Our attorneys assist clients, which may include game developers, publishers, esports organizations, streaming platforms, and other industry stakeholders, in navigating the complex legal and regulatory landscape governing all types of gaming. Our services encompass a wide range of legal areas relevant to the industry, such as intellectual property, licensing agreements, contracts, privacy and data protection, regulatory compliance, esports law, online gambling, corporate guidance, employment law, and dispute resolution. Our attorneys possess in-depth knowledge of the unique legal challenges and opportunities within the interactive entertainment and gaming sector, helping clients protect their rights, mitigate risks, and achieve their business objectives all under a single umbrella group.