

TECHNOLOGY

Technology companies face unique issues and have unique opportunities that innovative and entrepreneurial counsel help overcome and take advantage of to grow. From securing funding to protecting IP and navigating regulatory environments, technology companies must act quickly and be responsive to consumer needs in the marketplace so that they can manage customer acquisition and scale their businesses. We deal with those issues on your behalf every day and join businesses on the journey through the good and the bad.

As a full service law firm, we are a one-stop shop for all your legal needs. There is no need for you to waste your time seeking advice from many attorneys when you have them all under one roof. We partner with you to grow your business and realize your potential more effectively from the earliest stages of development through mature public company. As you evolve we do too so that we can support you at all times, whether you are forming a company, seeking IP protection, licensing IP, entering into commercial agreements, raising capital, dealing with corporate governance issues or exiting your investment through an IPO, M&A or other transaction.

Our practice evolves with the technology, whether it was the internet or blockchain, our expertise grows to meet your needs.
