

LITIGATION AND TRIAL

Our Litigation and Trial Group lawyers work closely with each client's in-house counsel and executive team to clearly understand the client's goals and develop winning strategies tailored to the needs of each case. Whenever appropriate, we utilize our client's resources and we make cost-effective recommendations to deal with every phase of the litigation process. This allows our clients to resolve cases short of trial and appeal, by using motions to dismiss and for summary judgment, mini-trials of specific issues, and mediation.
